Editorials

R. T. RUBIN — 1 — 1988 Miscellany

J. S. ROSENBLATT — 3 — Psychoneuroendocrine aspects of maternal behavior

Reviews

J. TERKEL — 5 — Neuroendocrine processes in the establishment of pregnancy and pseudopregnancy in rats

J. S. ROSENBLATT, A. D. MAYER and A. L. GIORDANO — 29 — Hormonal basis during pregnancy for the onset of maternal behavior in the rat

M. NUMAN — 47 — Neural basis of maternal behavior in the rat

S. M. REPPERT, D. R. WEAVER and S. A. RIVKEES — 63 — Maternal communication of circadian phase to the developing mammal

B. WOODSIDE and J. E. JANS — 79 — Neuroendocrine basis of thermally regulated maternal responses to young in the rat

P. POINDRON, F. LÉVY and D. KREHBIEL — 99 — Genital, olfactory, and endocrine interactions in the development of maternal behaviour in the parturient ewe

E. B. KEVERNE — 127 — Central mechanisms underlying the neural and neuroendocrine determinants of maternal behaviour

S. LEVINE and S. G. WIENER — 143 — Psychoendocrine aspects of mother-infant relationships in nonhuman primates

J. ITSKOVITZ and G. D. HODGEN — 155 — Endocrine basis for the initiation, maintenance and termination of pregnancy in humans

N. S. WHITWORTH — 171 — Lactation in humans

A. S. FLEMING and C. CORTER — 189 — Factors influencing maternal responsiveness in humans: usefulness of an animal model

Announcements
